Policy change (2): Kyutech's policy on classes and activities on/off campus (From the 4th quarter)

As reported in the media, the second declaration of a state emergency issued for Fukuoka prefecture was lifted on 1 March. In accordance with the situation, Kyutech changes its policy again for COVID-19 during the 4th quarter as follows. Please be noted that the policy is subject to change depending on the situation.

We are still under the threat of further spread of infection. Please be cautious and responsible for your actions in order to protect yourself, your family, people around you and the society.

1. Classes

For the courses of the 4th quarter, classes will be delivered in remote and face-to face lectures with precautionary measures. However, some courses such as experimental and practical works will be provided mainly in face-to-face lecture.

For more details, please check the websites of each campus and Live Campus. If you have any concern in attending classes on campus because of the infection risks when commuting or your health condition, remote classes are also available and you can attend classes online.

In order to raise awareness for each of you about preventing infection, the University requests students to take an e-learning course to learn how to prevent COVID-19 infection. If you have not taken it yet, log in the Moodle from the URL below, register the course, access "E-learning course on COVID-19 preventive measures", and view the learning materials. Please always be cautious to prevent infection.
